

Just ask Coach Bertrand of Region 1441... It's easy to get free admission to the Coyote Classic!

His GU10 team earned a free ticket to this year's Coyote Classic after submitting a photo of he and his daughters visiting several landmarks on the East Coast, including the White House and the Lincoln Memorial, wearing their maroon team shirts from the 2008 Coyote Classic.

We are continuing this fun contest for the 2009 Coyote Classic! Simply send us a photo of a player or registered volunteer who participated in the 2009 Coyote Classic (yes, we need their name and ID # with region and team) wearing their maroon shirt next to a city or country sign, or a well-known landmark, and email it to us for a chance to win. All entries must be received by November 1, 2009.

The one player or volunteer that sends in a picture furthest from our mailing address, listed at www.ayso665.org, and registers in our 2010 Coyote Classic will receive free registration for their ENTIRE TEAM for the 2010 Coyote Classic, plus we will waive the referee deposit. We will also award prizes to the 2nd and 3rd place winners. Distance will be determined "as the crow flies" using a distance calculator such as <http://www.infoplease.com/atlas/calculate-distance.html>.

So don't hesitate to let us know where your Coyote has been this summer. New York, Hawaii, or maybe Germany? Just send in your photos for a chance to win and a great deal for your team and recognition for your region.

Submission of a photograph for the Where in the World Is Your Coyote? contest implies consent that AYSO Region 665 may use said photograph in marketing materials on its web site, in flyers or other media.
